It is August already. Summer is just about to end. Soon, school will be starting up again. Please remember, one in five have dyslexia.

This being said, children with dyslexia (diagnosed and not) will be returning to the classrooms. Please review the IEPs and 504s of children in your classroom. If you have any questions, someone on the board will happily help you. Just ask.

Remember October is Dyslexia Awareness Month. We will have some events to attend to. Keep watching our Facebook Page for updates. Please email me with any ideas you have or need help with.

Please have a great rest of your summer.
